Farm Products Break Record.

A capstone to the columns of statistics was furnished by the Department of Agriculture in the announcement that the value of farm products for litt aggressated $10,000,000,000,000, breaking all previous records.

Investors probably will suffer from increased charges and reduced earnings for some months to come, but the conditions that produce these unfavorable results are behind us Further reductions in dividends are not unlikely. But timore and Ohlo directors meet January 5 to consider the dividend on the common stock, and a reduction in the rate of from 6 to 4 per cent is expected confidently. The effect, however, has been discounted largely by the decline which already has occurred.

Bonds were steady in the main, the demand for investment issues continuing. Speculative issues, were easier in sympathy with the decline in Wostern Maryland 4s and Missouri Pactile issues.

The fruits and vegetables remained in a quiet steady condition. Light receipts of Florida goods were again noted, and choice towatees and lettuce were in a strong demand at advanced figures. Other goods acid as follows: COTTON MARKETS,

The New Year finds the cettion trade established on a strong basis notwithstanding low prices ruling for the staple. Members of the New York Cotton Exchange are all optimistic regarding the future of business, both in the contract division of the market and for raw material. After six weeks of trial of new methods and the elimination of old processes and contracts the trade has become in on an increase which is considered fully satisfactory when the total collapse of fire months, and be also not the new conditions and business is on an increase which is considered fully satisfactory when the total collapse of fire months, and be computed by the agricultural department recently of grades which are to form the basis for delivery in contract trading are now moder inspections and consideration.
